DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the substitute specification filed March 15, 2007, the objection to the specification is withdrawn.
2. In view of the amendment filed March 15, 2007, the rejection of Claim 3 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is withdrawn.
3. In view of the argument filed March 15, 2007, the rejection of Claims 1, 3, 5, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Tanaka et al. (JP 2001011327 A, English abstract), is withdrawn.
4. In view of the argument filed March 15, 2007, the rejection claim 7 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Sakairi et al. (JP 2000255644 A, English abstract), is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claims 1, 3, 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Sakairi et al. (JP 2000255644 A, English abstract), for the reasons adequately set forth from paragraph 7 of the office action of November 15, 2006.

Sakairi et al. (English abstract) disclose pulp beads comprising rice powder, and a biodegradable resin. Although Sakairi et al. are silent on the method on how the final composition are prepared in the English abstract, applicants must recognize that “[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process.” In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

In view of the substantially identical composition disclosed in Sakairi et al, and the composition being claimed, the examiner has a reasonable basis that the claimed “biodegradable resin composition” as claimed is inherently possessed in Sakairi et al, each and individually. Since the PTO does not have proper means to conduct experiments, the burden of proof is now shifted to applicants to show otherwise. In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1977); In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980).

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant’s arguments filed March 15, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that Sakairi et al. disclose pulp which is granular matter comprising mainly pulp. However the pulp of Sakairi et al. is still a biodegradable resin composition comprising rice powder. Sakairi et al. (0021) also disclose a list of synthetic polymers that the biodegradable resin composition can comprise.

Regarding applicants' argument that the claimed invention involves "rice powder from which bran has been removed by rice milling", applicants fail to recognize that applicants' claim 5 (line 4) clearly claims a resin composition comprising rice bran.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1713

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
